

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

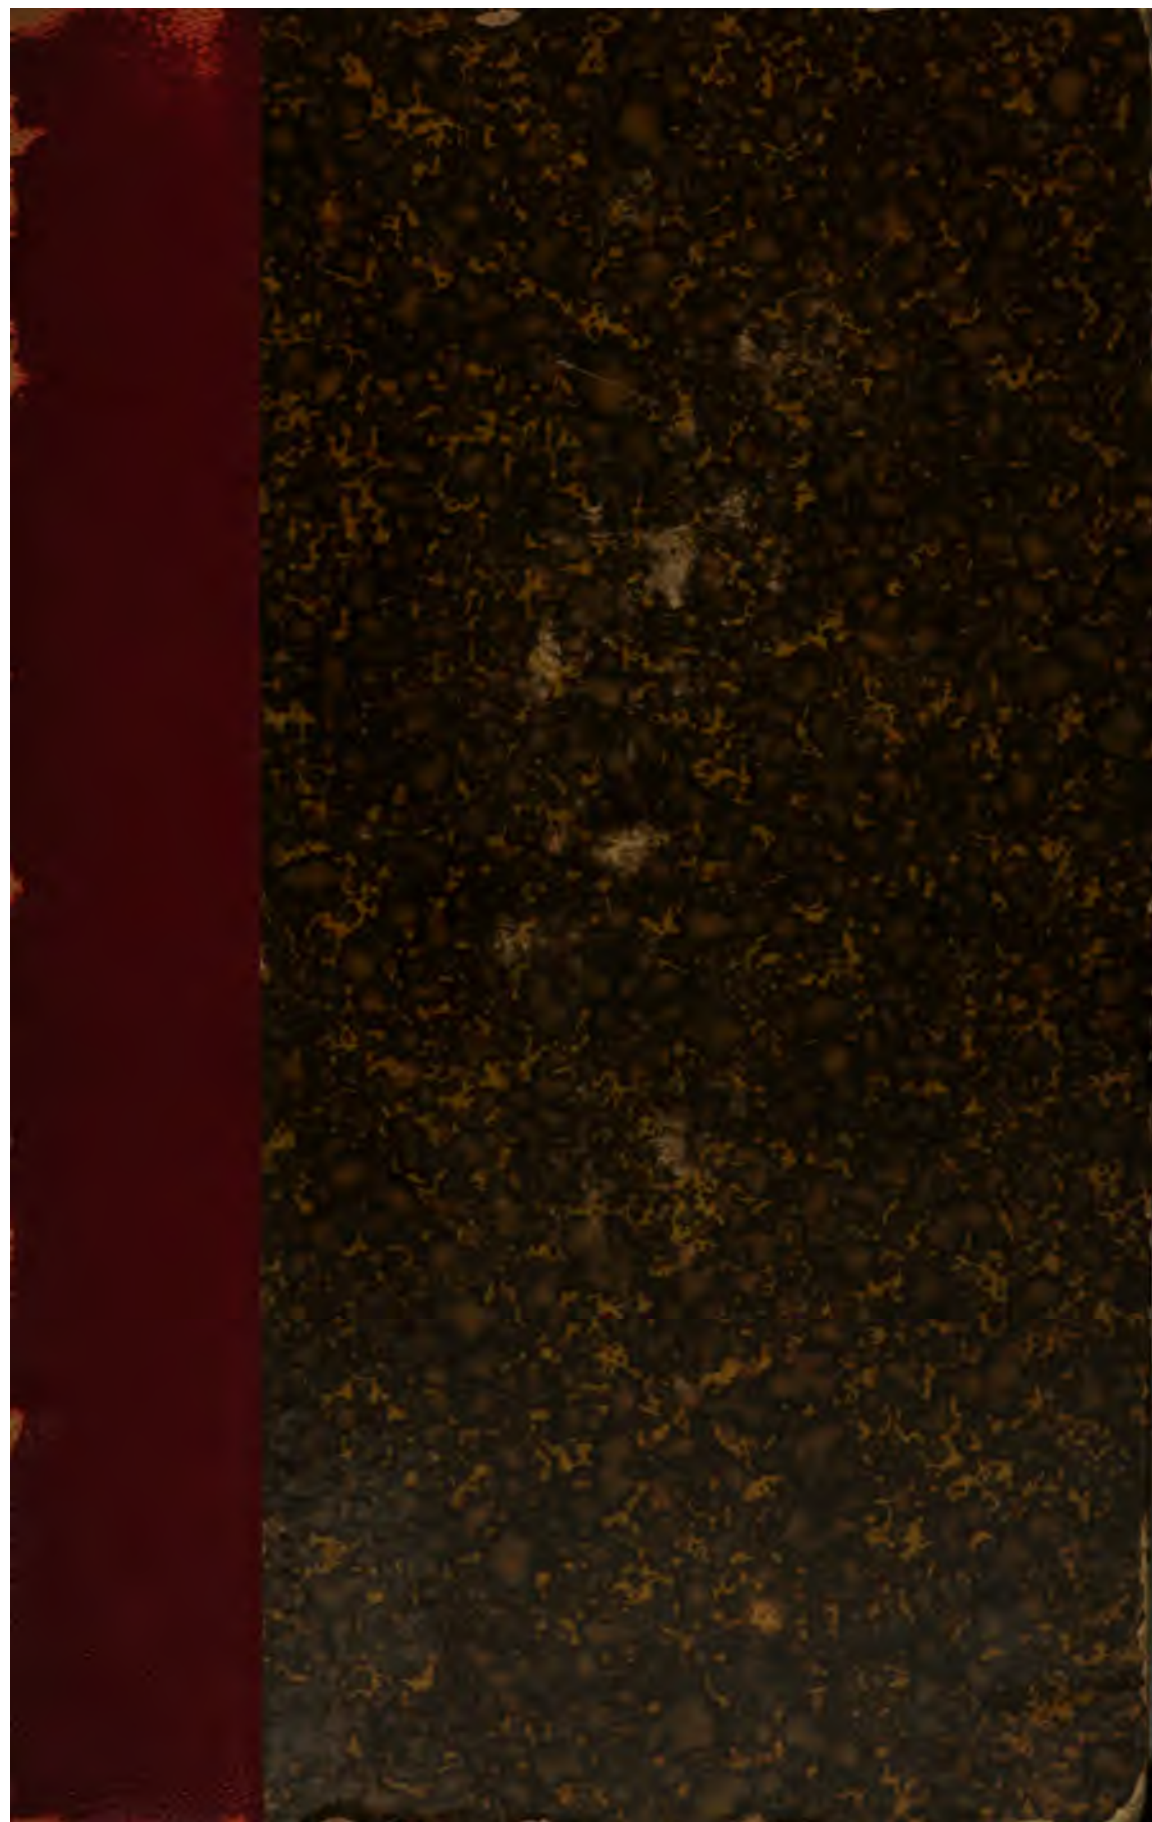

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

APPEAL TO GRADUATES AND OTHERS.

FOR several years efforts have been made to collect materials for a biographical dictionary of Harvard College graduates. Of some it has not been possible to ascertain even the place and time of their birth and death ; and of others there is absolutely nothing known but the name on the Triennial Catalogue. In many cases I have not been able to learn if there are any descendants or relatives to whom application can be made for information. In order that justice may be done, as far as possible, to all, and to obtain materials for a full biographical sketch of every graduate, I take the liberty respectfully, but urgently, to reiterate my appeal to the graduates, and other friends of the College, for answers to the accompanying questions respecting ancestors or relatives whose names may be on the Triennial, or any graduate who may ever have lived in the towns where they reside : —

1. Name of the graduate.
2. His father's occupation and name, with his mother's and her parents' names.
3. Place, year, month, and day of the graduate's birth.
4. Residences, occupations, journeys, and incidents before entering college, with their respective dates.
5. What first led him to think of going to college.
6. Places of study and teachers before entering college, with the dates.
7. When admitted to college.
8. Struggles in getting an education.
9. Incidents, tastes, and habits in college, with college prizes, honors, class appointments, &c.
10. Occupations and residences from the time of graduating, with the dates.
11. If he studied a profession, where, when, and with whom ; if a clergyman, of what denomination, when and where settled ; if a lawyer, when and where admitted to the bar.
12. All offices, honors, and titles, with the dates ; all societies of which he was a member.

13. If married, when, to whom, the names of the wife's parents in full, and the place, time, &c. of her death, if deceased. If married more than once, the same information in regard to succeeding marriages.
14. Disease of which he died, with the circumstances, place, and day of his death.
15. Travels, incidents, hereditary tendencies, peculiarities, tastes, and particularly anecdotes illustrative of his habits and course of life, or which will give interest to a biographical sketch.
16. A full and exact title of every book or pamphlet written or edited, with notices of manuscripts left by him.
17. Genealogical details of his ancestors and descendants.
18. Obituaries, eulogies, or funeral sermons respecting him.

It is not supposed that all these questions are pertinent to every graduate, or that there is any case in which all of them can be answered; but it will be gratifying to receive a reply, though it be in answer to only one of the questions, and relating to but one person. At the same time, no communication, though it should cover many pages, can be too long or too minute.

It is also very important in all cases to have the Christian and middle names written in full, and to have as many dates as possible. The dates, in addition to the year, should always contain the month, and the day of the month, whenever they can be ascertained.

The value of the communications will depend on their accuracy. The sources from which much of the desired information may be derived are town, church, probate, and family records, deeds, newspapers, interleaved almanacs, manuscript diaries, and inscriptions on gravestones and monuments.

As all the graduates are supposed to have an interest in the projected work, and it is impossible to accomplish it without co-operation, it is hoped that no one will fail to make a reply to this appeal.

Answers from graduates in relation to themselves are also respectfully solicited, as they are more likely to be full and correct than if given by others after their decease.

I may add, that I am desirous of obtaining the Triennials published before the year 1800, and particularly any one published on sheets before the year 1776, as the addition of the stars to the successive editions commonly furnishes an approximation to the dates of the deaths.

It is important that the communications be received as early as practicable. They may be addressed to

THE accompanying Roll of the students of Harvard University who were engaged in the Army and Navy of the United States in the late War of the Rebellion has been prepared at the request and under the direction of the Corporation, in order to commemorate the devotion and patriotism of her sons to their common country. Many errors and omissions necessarily occur in this issue, and it is the intention of the Corporation to republish the same with the next Triennial Catalogue, incorporating in that edition such corrections as may be supplied previous to the time of publication. It is hoped that, in this way, as perfect a roll as may be possible will be obtained.

Any person able to give trustworthy information, either as additions to the accompanying Roll or corrections of it, is requested to communicate the same to the undersigned at an early day.

CATALOGUS
UNIVERSITATIS HARVARDIANÆ.

M DCCC LXIX.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and the role of the auditor in ensuring the integrity of the financial statements. It highlights the need for transparency and accountability in the reporting process.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures and standards that must be followed during the audit process. This includes the selection of samples, the use of statistical methods, and the application of professional judgment.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges and risks associated with auditing complex financial systems. It emphasizes the need for continuous learning and the adoption of new technologies to stay current in the field.

4. The fourth part of the document provides a detailed analysis of the current state of the auditing profession. It identifies key areas for improvement and offers recommendations for enhancing the effectiveness and efficiency of audit practices.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes with a summary of the findings and a call to action for the industry. It stresses the importance of collaboration and communication among all stakeholders to ensure the highest quality of audit results.

APPEAL TO GRADUATES AND OTHERS.

FOR several years efforts have been made to collect materials for a biographical dictionary of Harvard College graduates. Of some it has not been possible to ascertain even the place and time of their birth and death; and of others there is absolutely nothing known but the name on the Triennial Catalogue. In many cases I have not been able to learn if there are any descendants or relatives to whom application can be made for information. In order that justice may be done, as far as possible, to all, and to obtain materials for a full biographical sketch of every graduate, I take the liberty respectfully, but urgently, to reiterate my appeal to the graduates, and other friends of the College, for answers to the accompanying questions respecting ancestors or relatives whose names may be on the Triennial, or any graduate who may ever have lived in the towns where they reside : —

1. Name of the graduate.
2. His father's occupation and name, with his mother's and her parents' names.
3. Place, year, month, and day of the graduate's birth.
4. Residences, occupations, journeys, and incidents before entering college, with their respective dates.
5. What first led him to think of going to college.
6. Places of study and teachers before entering college, with the dates.
7. When admitted to college.
8. Struggles in getting an education.
9. Incidents, tastes, and habits in college, with college prizes, honors, class appointments, &c.
10. Occupations and residences from the time of graduating, with the dates.
11. If he studied a profession, where, when, and with whom; if a clergyman, of what denomination, when and where settled; if a lawyer, when and where admitted to the bar.
12. All offices, honors, and titles, with the dates; all societies of which he was a member.
13. If married, when, to whom, the names of the wife's parents in full, and the place, time, &c. of her death, if deceased. If married more than once, the same information in regard to succeeding marriages.
14. Disease of which he died, with the circumstances, place, and day of his death.

15. Travels, incidents, hereditary tendencies, peculiarities, tastes, and particularly anecdotes illustrative of his habits and course of life, or which will give interest to a biographical sketch.
16. A full and exact title of every book or pamphlet written or edited, with notices of manuscripts left by him.
17. Genealogical details of his ancestors and descendants.
18. Obituaries, eulogies, or funeral sermons respecting him.

It is not supposed that all these questions are pertinent to every graduate, or that there is any case in which all of them can be answered ; but it will be gratifying to receive a reply, though it be in answer to only one of the questions, and relating to but one person. At the same time, no communication, though it should cover many pages, can be too long or too minute.

It is also very important in all cases to have the Christian and middle names written in full, and to have as many dates as possible. The dates, in addition to the year, should always contain the month, and the day of the month, whenever they can be ascertained.

The value of the communications will depend on their accuracy. The sources from which much of the desired information may be derived are town, church, probate, and family records, deeds, newspapers, interleaved almanacs, manuscript diaries, and inscriptions on gravestones and monuments.

As all the graduates are supposed to have an interest in the projected work, and it is impossible to accomplish it without co-operation, it is hoped that no one will fail to make a reply to this appeal.

Answers from graduates in relation to themselves are also respectfully solicited, as they are more likely to be full and correct than if given by others after their decease.

Deaths should be immediately reported to the editor of the Triennial, by the class-secretaries and others, as the graduates are so numerous and widely scattered that, with the greatest care, there may be many omissions and mistakes.

I may add, that I am desirous of obtaining the Triennials published before the year 1800, and particularly any one published on sheets before the year 1776, as the addition of the stars to the successive editions commonly furnishes an approximation to the dates of the deaths.

It is important that the communications be received as early as practicable. They may be addressed to NOTICE.

DEATHS and honors should be immediately reported to the editor of the Triennial Catalogue by friends and relatives, and by class-secretaries, as the graduates are so numerous and widely scattered that, notwithstanding the greatest care, there will be many omissions and mistakes.

For the purpose of improving the Triennial and of continuing the "Biographical Sketches" of the Alumni, the first volume of which being nearly printed will soon be issued, the editor respectfully, but urgently, reiterates his appeal to the graduates, and other friends of the College, for answers to the following questions respecting ancestors or relatives whose names may be on the Triennial, or any graduate who may ever have lived in the towns where they reside :—

1. Name of the graduate.
2. His father's occupation and name, with his mother's and her parents' names.
3. Place, year, month, and day of the graduate's birth.
4. Residences, occupations, journeys, and incidents before entering college, with their respective dates.
5. What first led him to think of going to college.
6. Places of study and teachers before entering college, with the dates.
7. When admitted to college.
8. Struggles in getting an education.
9. Incidents, tastes, and habits in college, with college prizes, honors, class appointments, etc.
10. Occupations and residences from the time of graduating, with the dates.
11. If he studied a profession, where, when, and with whom; if a clergyman, of what denomination, when and where settled; if a lawyer, when and where admitted to the bar.
12. All offices, honors, and titles, with the dates; all societies of which he was a member.

13. If married, when, to whom, the names of the wife's parents in full, and the place, time, etc., of her death, if deceased. If married more than once, the same information in regard to succeeding marriages.
14. Disease of which he died, with the circumstances, place, and day of his death.
15. Travels, incidents, hereditary tendencies, peculiarities, tastes, and particularly anecdotes illustrative of his habits and course of life, or which will give interest to a biographical sketch.
16. A full and exact title of every book or pamphlet written or edited, with notices of manuscripts left by him.
17. Genealogical details of his ancestors and descendants.
18. Obituaries, eulogies, or funeral sermons respecting him.

It is not supposed that all these questions are pertinent to every graduate, or that there is any case in which all of them can be answered ; but it will be gratifying to receive a reply, though it be in answer to no more than one of the questions, and relating to but one person. At the same time, no communication, though it should cover many pages, can be too long or too minute.

It is also very important in all cases to have the Christian and middle names written in full, and to have as many dates as possible. The dates, in addition to the year, should always contain the month, and the day of the month, whenever they can be ascertained.

The value of the communications will depend on their accuracy. The sources from which much of the desired information may be derived are town, church, probate, and family records, deeds, newspapers, interleaved almanacs, manuscript diaries, and inscriptions on gravestones and monuments.

Answers from graduates in relation to themselves are also respectfully solicited, as they are more likely to be full and correct than if given by others after their decease.

I may add, that I am desirous of obtaining the Triennials published before the year 1800, and particularly any one published on sheets before the year 1776, as the addition of the stars to the successive editions commonly furnishes an approximation to the dates of the deaths.

It is important that the communications be received as early as practicable. They may be addressed to

JOHN LANGDON SIBLEY,

Librarian of Harvard College,
Cambridge, Mass.
